A journey to the ancient roots of Catalonia

The Archaeology Museum of Catalonia in Barcelona offers 3,000 square meters of exhibitions dedicated to presenting the roots of Catalonia. The centre also proposes a varied and interesting programme of activities and temporary exhibitions that make it an unmissable destination for all those interested in archaeology, art and ancient history, both in Catalonia and throughout the western Mediterranean. A national and international reference centre, a symbol of Catalonia's commitment to innovation and creativity, it is open, inclusive, transparent and sustainable. A 21st century museum where archaeology explains, questions, surprises and excites.
